This information notice announces a new early bird registration deadline of September 25, 2009, for the Community College Summit (CCS) – Building Gateways to the Green Economy to be held October 5-7, 2009, in Pasadena.

Community Colleges are a focal point for State and national efforts to create a green economy and workforce in California. This Summit is focused on all aspects of the dynamic market - from green building and energy efficiency to the products and services that new green facilities will need. It also encompasses green job training, the needs of industry, and the challenges of developing curricula that meet these needs.

The Summit provides an opportunity to engage with the leaders of this movement, or to get up to date on the programs, projects, policies and technologies that are fueling it. Featured keynote speakers include David Crane, Special Advisor to the Governor for Jobs and Economic Growth and Jerome Ringo, President of Apollo Alliance.

To receive the early bird discount, register by September 25, 2009, at www.green-technology.org/ccsummit. For additional information, call 626-577-5700.
